

MAKING

a Difference

Washington County Community Foundation

For Good. For Ever. For Washington County.

2013 Annual Report to the Community

Dear Friends,

In 1996, MarjiAnn Souder created a fund in our Foundation to honor her father, William O. Martin. He was an educator and loved to teach Mathematics. MarjiAnn’s intent was to award a math prize each year to the top math student at Eastern High School. Since that time, the William O. Martin Math prize has been awarded, following MarjiAnn’s criteria... just like she wanted.

In 2005 MarjiAnn’s family honored her with a similar fund... only this time it was for the top history student- MarjiAnn’s favorite subject. Since then, her prize has been awarded, following the criteria the family established... just like they wanted.

This is what we do. We help people create legacies. We like to say “We connect people who care with causes that matter to them.” And then we safeguard those legacies and ensure that the donor’s intentions are carried out.

We hope you enjoy this Annual Report and hope you will want to join us in making our community an even greater place to live, work, volunteer and play. After all, the actions you take and the gifts you make, regardless of size, make an incredible difference.

Here for Good,

How Can You Make a Difference?

- Join our organization by paying $35.00 membership dues
- Make a contribution to your favorite Washington County Community Foundation Fund. We accept a wide variety of assets, including cash, stocks, bonds, real estate, retirement plans, life insurance and bequests in your will or trust
- Start your own fund. It can be surprisingly easy to do and create a permanent legacy.
- If you would like guaranteed life income, talk to us about a charitable gift annuity or a charitable remainder trust.
- Sign up for our ACH service. You can authorize us to withdraw a fixed amount of money from your checking or savings account on a monthly basis.
- Start a payroll deduction program at your place of employment.
- Join our Morris Society. Plan now to leave your legacy. Giving just 5% through your estate plan can have a powerful impact on our county’s future.

Gifts are professionally invested with the following objectives:

- Preservation of permanent assets
- Protection of these assets from inflation
- Enhancement of the fund assets through market appreciation
- The Foundation distributes a portion of each fund’s generated income, always following the donor’s intention

Happily Ever After Project

- 75% of students who are poor readers in the third grade will remain poor readers in high school.
- Many states plan the number of jail cells they will need in the future by the number of children not reading on grade level by grade 3.
- It is estimated that the cost of illiteracy to US business and the taxpayer is $20 billion per year.
- More than three out of four of those on welfare, 85% of unwed mothers and 68% of those arrested are illiterate.

As Aaron Johnson, 2010-2011 Vice President of the Washington County Youth Foundation, puts it, "We can't make a difference overnight, but we can make a difference over time. If we can get more of our third graders reading at grade level, then more of the youth in Washington County will grow up to 'Live Happily Ever After'".

This is why the Washington County Youth Foundation started the Happily Ever After Project. The goals are:

- 1. Create a love of reading in every child's life
- 2. Improve the reading comprehension skills in our elementary students

Through this project, high school students read to second and third graders in the classroom and give all participating students three chapter books each school year.

Kellan Humphrey gets to spend a few moments reading one of the give-away books in Ms. Johnson's classroom.

2013 Sponsors: A BIG thanks to our Corporate Sponsors.

With their generous assistance, we were able to give away over 1650 chapter books to second and third graders in our county!

Add & Mabel Grey

Treasures. That is the word that would describe the store at Punkin Center where Add and Mabel Gray spent most of their lives. Treasured possessions and treasured memories.

Mabel met Add Matthew Gray when she was 22 years old. “I met my husband while looking for work, he got me for three dollars,” laughs Mabel. Add and Mabel raised pets of all kinds and actually had nine burros at one time. The burros were used to pull their nieces and nephews in a buckboard buggy through parades anytime or in any town. “The dog used to jump on the burros backs and would jump off before they went very far.” They also raised all kinds of chickens and dogs. Add and Mabel worked and ran the store, the backbone of Punkin Center. They lived in the upstairs of the store and enclosed one of the porches to make a small kitchen area. “I liked to cook, but never had time. I would put something on to cook and have to finish it after waiting on people. I rarely sat down to a meal unless it was breakfast.” One of the biggest attractions at the store in the 1930’s and 1940’s was the different musicians that would play there. Another attraction was the Punkin Center baseball team. “Add used to haul them from one place to another,” recalls Mabel. One of the fondest memories Mabel has of the Punkin Center store is the summer of the Kraft cheese promotion. “Kraft advertised all summer about giving away cheese to patrons. So many people showed up they had to quit giving it away.” The most notable feature of the store was the collection of interesting objects. A wooden Indian, steer horns, costumes, and music boxes are just the start. “People brought in things they didn’t want. We never tried to collect a lot of things and we didn’t buy it to make much money, just bought it to sell it to someone who wanted or needed it.” Mabel is a crafty lady who can just make things look better. “I don’t like to see things go to waste. Add used to make swings out of old parts and there were whirligigs all over the place.” After Add’s death in 1988, Mabel continued to run the Punkin Center store until 2006 when she moved to The Waters in Salem. “There was a three day sale at the store,” recalls Shirley Batt, Mabel’s niece, “People came from all around to look at and buy the collectibles.” Not all treasures are material. You can’t put a price tag on the most valuable treasure that left Punkin Center in 2006. Mabel. Her stories, her care, her memories, her love of Punkin Center and the people that grew up there and future generations that will call Punkin Center home. That is the best treasure of the Punkin Center store. Mabel passed away in 2012. She left a large portion of her estate to the Washington County Community Foundation. As evidenced by the way she and Add operated the Punkin Center Store, they had many interests. Mabel created a Touch Tomorrow Fund which will benefit the ever changing future needs of Washington County residents.

She also created a pass through fund which will benefit the following organizations for the next 10 years:

Crown Hill Cemetery- $1,000.00 per year for ten years

Livonia Cemetery of Washington County, Indiana- $1,000.00 per year for ten years

To the trustees of the hospital in Bedford, Indiana (currently IU Health- Bedford Hospital) Bedford Indiana- $500.00 per year for ten years to be used to defray the costs of equipment for the care of heart disease patients

American Cancer Society- $500.00 per year for ten years

Ronald McDonald House of Louisville, Kentucky- $500.00 per year for ten years

Alzheimer’s association- $500.00 per year for ten years

“Unlike wealth, there is an infinite value in legacy.”- Criss Jami

We are all about creating legacies and preserving donor intentions. It is an honor and privilege to work with people who want to create a permanent gift to our community. In reality, these wonderful individuals make Washington County one of their heirs. Sometimes, we are their only heir.

Our heartfelt gratitude goes to the following individuals who made our community one of their heirs:

Mary Smith

We have 162 endowed funds. Each one came into existence through a very unique way. Such is the story of the Mary A. Smith Fund. Mary created her Will years before the Washington County Community Foundation was established. She established a trust fund which was subsequently managed by J. P. Morgan. In December of 2011, J.P. Morgan contacted the Trustees of Canton United Methodist Church (the beneficiary of the trust) to inform them that continued administration of the trust was impractical for them and wanted to involve the church trustees in determining how to manage the assets going forward. Maurice Johnson and Marvin

Day immediately contacted Judy Johnson to set up a meeting to discuss their options. Ideally, they wanted the funds to be transferred to the Washington County Community Foundation to ensure that Mary’s legacy would be safeguarded. After discussing with Judy the options and process, the two decided to have Mary’s fund transferred to the Foundation. During the course of the conversation, Marvin asked if the church trustees had total discretion as to the use of the future grants from Mary’s fund. Judy answered that she would need to review Mary’s Last Will and Testament and her Trust Agreement before she could answer that question. Sensing that Marvin was a little disappointed with her answer, Maurice leaned over and said to Marvin, “That’s the way it should be.

That’s the way it will always be, and that’s a good thing.”

The Mary A. Smith Fund was established in our Foundation in November, 2013. It was an interesting process to get the assets transferred. Now, Mary’s legacy will be lovingly preserved in the Washington County Community Foundation.

Who says science and math can't be fun? Just ask Emma Westfall.... She will tell you that science and math can be a blast, thanks to a grant that we gave to Boy Scout Pack 4029.

Scout leader Matt Kidd saw an opportunity and acted. The scouts had a great Pinewood Derby track thanks to a previous Washington County Community Foundation grant.... But now what? After researching, he asked for a grant to purchase Lego Chassis for the track. Now he takes the track on the road to many different venues. They teach the kids basic, but important, STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math) concepts while building cars to race. The kids have a blast and learn that STEM can be cool and fun!

Emma Westfall

And it's a good thing.... The U.S. will have more than 1.2 million job openings in STEM-related occupations by 2018.... And not enough people to fill those positions!

According to Emma, "It was fun to build and race the Lego cars with everyone. I had a great time with all the kids I met there. I loved it so so much." Emma's Mom, Sabrina Burdine, is also a fan of the program, "This was a great after school activity. Emma put a lot of thought into her car... down to the size of the wheels she was going to use. I think it is wonderful that she was exposed to this type of thinking and problem solving activity."

Scholarships

Paige Hoke

The Washington County Community Foundation administers 39 scholarship funds. Thanks to the many donors who established these funds, we awarded over $104,000.00 to 98 students in 2013. This does not include the Lilly Endowment Community Scholarship.

What better way to make a difference than to invest in our youth?

Bailey Walker

Education Matters Southern Indiana (EMSI)

The EMSI initiative was organized by the community foundations that serve Clark, Floyd, Harrison, Scott and Washington counties in Indiana to strengthen our workforce and improve the economic development of our region by increasing the educational attainment of those adults with some form of post-secondary education but no degree or certification. Research shows that in this five county region, only 25% of the workforce has an associate's, bachelor's, or professional degree, compared to 38% nationally. Yet one in four – over 40,000 people – of the region's adult workers has earned some college credits. Those 40,000 people in our five counties represent an opportunity to increase the economic development of our communities, lure new businesses to our region, and enhance the quality of life for this and future generations.

In 2013 the Washington County Community Foundation awarded scholarships to five adults in our community who started college but never completed. Their career goals are varied, but they all have one thing in common: they are going to finish school this time around.

We will continue to work to increase the educational attainment of our residents. We believe that this is a very important step in our economic development.
