Lives YOU have Touched

Thanks to you, Audrey is now able to read at grade level!

Update on the Dyslexia Resource Center

In the fall of 2020, Audrey was a 2nd grader at East Washington Elementary School. According to her mother, Mackenzie, "at the beginning of last school year, Audrey was unable to even sound words out. We had tried everything we could get our hands on, but nothing was working. The school was even wanting to hold her back a year because of this. We knew that wasn't the right move for her and that she just needed some support that we hadn't found."

This is where YOU stepped in. Thanks to you and your generosity, the Foundation awarded a grant to CAST to establish the Dyslexia Resource Center (DRC). At the same time that Audrey's family was looking for solutions, CAST just happened to be starting a pilot program through the newly founded DRC to match struggling readers with reading specialists right here in Washington County. Audrey was paired with a tutor who worked with her one-on-one using this systematic, individualized, multi-sensory form of reading instruction. Audrey completed one full school year of tutoring and then attended the Summer of Success reading camp at CAST. Mackenzie noticed, "by the end of summer, she was eager to read and had started reading chapter books. This school year she's continued to grow by leaps and bounds. She had been getting C's in reading and on her last report card, she had worked her way all the way to an A. Her confidence has also grown tremendously. She's incredibly proud of her accomplishments and so are we."

Audrey's success story is one that wouldn't have been possible even a few short years ago because what she needed just did not exist in Southern Indiana. Thanks to you, over the last 3 years, the DRC has worked to change the culture of reading education in Washington County. Teachers and tutors have been trained to provide instruction that is 95% effective in helping students to read at grade level. Struggling readers are now screened for dyslexia, referred to the DRC, and supported in classrooms with Reading Specialists. This changes the trajectory of student lives. There are many Washington County students like Audrey who now have access to exactly what they need to succeed academically now and in the future as they grow into contributing citizens with a lifelong passion for learning. Thank you for helping them learn to read!

Audrey says, "CAST helped me a lot. When I started CAST, I was too afraid to even try to read. I can read perfectly fine now. I just need help with really big words. I like reading now and can read chapter books".
Thank you for helping Audrey!

We honor them for who they are... and so that our gift will live on forever.
